

Watch and learn about Rocky Mountain Elk from a horse drawn wagon at the elk feeding site on Anthony Creek , at the base of the beautiful Blue Mountains near North Powder, Oregon . The rides are offered weekends from mid-December through February. Fifty to 150 elk (including many branch-antlered bulls) generally feed at the site, giving people an excellent opportunity to see and photograph the wild animals up close. Exit #285 off Interstate 84 at North Powder, Oregon (25 miles southeast of La Grande) and follow the brown wildlife viewing signs west toward the mountains. $4 per person.

www.tnhorsemanship.com